

05-231

Maggie

1/9/05

Austine School flt Deaf

BOOKED FILE COPY ORIGINAL Austine Dr.

Brattleboro, VT 05301

Strength

Put on every TV channels. Most, but not a lot.

Deaf people continue to use many times to understand.

It helps them to improve reading skills.

Weakening

Some of the words are misspelling and has to respell again.

Some of the people didn't type the closed caption to tell us what's happening right now.

Some of the words stay and didn't type what the person is saying.

No access or poor quality.

Captions disappear.

caption block text.

No captions on the next program.

Opportunities

Need more training of what the person's saying so no misspelling, words stay on the TV all day and no closed captions all day. Need more training.

Need a lot of details from it.

Need more training from the best person who pay attention and type very fast.

Captions require on TV so deaf and hard-of-hearing people can read and understanding what it's going on.

Threats

Some a lot of TV news don't has closed captions. It leaves it for a long time and it don't has it.

Could lose more deaf people if not putting on closed caption to read and understanding.

Crucial and integral part of this deaf or hard-of-hearing people to understand.

RECEIVED

JAN 12 2006

Federal Communications Commission
Office of the Secretary

No. of Copies rec'd
List ABCDE

6